PUBLIC LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT SERIES

I have always sought out this type of information, reading books and watching videos on leadership, performance psychology, etc., and it gave me a good foundation to be a leader. However, this course took that body of knowledge and applied it directly to the workplace, allowing it to be infinitely more practical and helpful. It took things I knew to be and turned them into immediate actions I can take to be a better leader today.

General Manager, Pharmacy

As a leader in the construction industry, the applicable soft skills that are taught and put into practice are needed in a daily basis. Being able to rely/fall back on this course will be invaluable moving forward.

Senior Project Manager, Construction Services

I was very skeptical going into the Living As A Leader program, but that skepticism was totally gone by the end of the first session. I've acquired tools that allow me to be an effective leader—both at work and outside the workplace. The most important lesson I've learned is that people are NOT born as leaders—they become effective leaders by learning and practicing leadership skills that are obtainable through this program. The course also includes one-on-one coaching with a friendly and knowledgeable coach who has real-world leadership experience and who can address topics and concerns specific to the student! I would recommend the Series to any group—business or otherwise—that see potential in their individuals and want to grow them into effective leaders.

Store Manager, Automotive Industry

Living As A Leader was to me like cleaning up a diamond in the rough.

Finance and Budget Manager, County Employee

Leadership courses were applicable and relevant in all types of leadership situations or settings. They helped me form better habits and practices that I will continue to use going forward.

Construction Compliance Manager, Real Estate

The Living As A Leader Development Series is a great program! Whether you are a first-time leader or a seasoned leader, there are tools and techniques presented to enhance your effectiveness with your team. The coaching sessions that accompany the modules help to lock in the concepts being taught as you receive support individually and are able to discuss topics relevant to your own development.

HR Professional, Manufacturing

LAAL helped open my eyes to what it all takes to be a great leader and how having the right mindset can make a huge difference! Becoming a good leader is not something that happens overnight and leadership is something that needs to be consistently practiced. LAAL gave me the tools and training to help with this and build my confidence as a leader.

Manager, Finance

No matter how effective you think you are as a leader, this series will shine light on areas you may not have considered. As a leader, there is always an opportunity to grow and learn, this is the course for that!

Account Manager, Business to Business Service

I have a strict avoidance policy when it comes to conflict within my team. I was just too uncomfortable to handle those situations and would work through picking up the slack. I feel like the Living As A Leader program has really helped me be more comfortable with having those types of conversations and I have the tools to be more confident in those situations. I no longer have to avoid but can address conflict with more confidence.

County Employee, County Government

If you are looking for a transformational leadership development training, Living as a Leader series is one you need to add immediately. It doesn't matter where you are on your leadership journey, it will stretch you beyond measures.
