TRAIN-THE-TRAINER CERTIFICATION & IMPLEMENTATION

As LAAL licensees for the past decade, we have strengthened hundreds of leaders in our client organizations through Living As A Leader. Our cohort participants consistently provide testimony that the experience made them better leaders. Many of our participants have been promoted and had their responsibilities expanded since learning how to apply common sense to common practice and feel confident to say and do the right thing in their roles as managers. We are so happy that we can fulfill our mission of strengthening leadership and making the lives of employees better because of the skill of their leaders.

We are thrilled with the transformative effect the Living As a Leader Leadership Development Program has had on our organization. Now in its third year, this program has become a cornerstone of our leadership strategy, equipping more than 119 leaders across Canada, Mexico, Europe, and Asia with the skills to inspire their teams and drive meaningful results.

The principles taught in this program have been wholeheartedly embraced by our leadership team, fostering alignment with our company values and reinforcing the critical role of leadership in motivating employees and holding them accountable. Building on this success, we expanded our efforts this year by introducing the Emerging Leader program, tailored specifically for Team Leaders and Informal Leaders.

Since its launch in 2022, the program has been consistently well-received across the globe, demonstrating its universal relevance and effectiveness. We are excited to continue strengthening this partnership and look forward to seeing even more of our leaders grow and thrive through this initiative.

Five years ago, Hendricks/Geronimo made the decision to invest in our internal community by providing a robust leadership training curriculum through Living as a Leader. Fast forward to the present, and I have concluded my second year as an in-house facilitator of the Living as a Leader program.

I cannot say enough about how much this program has changed my career and improved my leadership, and the leadership skills of those around me. I utilize the tools provided by this program on a daily basis, and it has been particularly beneficial when coaching fellow leaders in handling difficult situations and coaching their teams.

As an added bonus, the curriculum focuses heavily on self-awareness and the concept of becoming a better leader by becoming a better person.

I am grateful for what I've learned through Living as a Leader and encourage any organization to consider this program.

For the past six years, we have cultivated a powerful partnership with Living As A Leader. As a certified Living As A Leader facilitator and coach, I have had the privilege of delivering their exceptional content to over 250 leaders who have successfully completed our required workshops and coaching sessions.

This partnership has allowed us to roll out impactful leadership development initiatives coast-to-coast across multiple divisions of our organization. One of the most significant outcomes has been the establishment of a common leadership language—a vital foundation for fostering a people-oriented and positive workplace culture.

The feedback we've received has been overwhelmingly positive. Leaders consistently share how this program has equipped and empowered them with practical, consistent tools to strengthen their leadership skills. These tools, in turn, have helped to build and sustain positive relationships within their teams, driving engagement and collaboration across the board.

I cannot recommend Living As A Leader enough for organizations seeking to develop leaders who inspire, connect, and create meaningful impact.

Training the trainer in Living as a Leader has been truly transformative for our college. The ability to effectively and affordably disseminate this practice to all of our employees has been pivotal in shifting the program from being just a valuable professional development opportunity for a few, to fostering a proactive leadership culture across the entire institution. Even years after launching the program, we continue to empower employees at all levels with the Living as a Leader methodology.
